

Debate

We were asked to imagine that a famous person from Leeds was going to have a statue built in their honour. We had to defend one person. We took part in a debate. When we wanted to interrupt someone, we put out our hand. The speaker could then choose to listen to us or not.

