

Headteacher's assembly 20th April 2026

Heroes.

The children had these questions to consider whilst coming into assembly:

Is there someone you look up to in school?

Why do you admire them?

Would you even say they are your hero?

The children shared their thoughts and gave some really great answers which included staff, children and volunteers.

Then I revealed my hero in school:

It is of course Baldish! I asked the children why they thought Baldish was my hero? They gave lots of great answers, many focused on these:

Baldish works incredibly hard for us and works the longest hours in school of anyone! Whilst I admire Baldish for how hard she works and all the effort she puts in to ensure everyone is fed, the school is clean and makes sure it is open in a morning then closed at night, it is her qualities as a person that I appreciate the most:

Heroes.

Selfless.

Positive.

Generous.

Selfless: consistently puts others first without expectation of reward. Baldish works to make Highfield a better place, not because she wants something in return. That is a true Highfielder.

Positive: Baldish is always positive. She does everything with a smile on her face and believes in everyone around her. Baldish encourages, comforts, supports and wants to know everyone is happy and cared for.

Generous: Nothing is too much trouble and she always has time to help. She will offer without being asked. What a champion person.

That is why Baldish is my hero. Be like Baldish.
