

Assistant Headteacher's assembly 28th Sept 2026: Belonging (Part 3)

Mr Brassil took today's assembly! He finished by reading the book Odd Dog Out, by Rob Biddulph...

Today's Assembly.....

Belong.....Be Unique

THINKING TASK.....

- Which One Doesn't Belong?
- Why?
- Why might each one belong?

Is it possible to belong and be unique too?

419

BELONGING AT SCHOOL

- Rules
- Identity
- Routines

In a busy, bustling city where every dog acts, dresses, and conforms to the exact same routine, one small dachshund sticks out. Sporting a colourful rainbow scarf and a love for marching to her own beat, she feels completely isolated as the "odd dog out". Desperate to find a place where she fits in, she packs her bags and travels across the world to fabulous "Doggywood," where hundreds of dogs look and act exactly like her. However, just when she thinks she has found her perfect home, a chance encounter with an unapologetic non-conformist makes her realize that blending into the crowd isn't the answer—and that being unique is the greatest superpower of all.